

FRACTUREPOINT

Heavy Rock / Alt Metal | Long Island, NY

FracturePoint is a heavy rock band from Long Island, blending powerful vocals, modern metal riffs, and high-energy live performances. The band members met through the local music scene and are quickly building a reputation for their tight musicianship and stage presence.

Despite being a new project, each member brings significant live performance experience through extensive touring and shows with School of Rock House Bands (Northeast) and All Stars (National).

Now writing their first original releases, FracturePoint is quickly building momentum with their heavy sound and passionate performances.
